Interview Protocols

Topic	Question
General opinion about gender equality	What is your opinion about gender equality in Indonesia?
Potential factor of Gender proportion representation in the textbook	Please correct me if I am wrong. According to a tentative result of my data analysis, there seems to be different proportion of male and female representation. If any, what might be the factors that shape this proportion?
	When you were in the process of writing the textbook, were you concern of female and male equality representation?
	I am intended to collect data for research question number two. If you look at my second research question, what might be the best answer to the question?
