PREFACE

In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious one, I have finally finished my study with this research paper. It is submitted to English Education Department of Indonesian University of Education as a partial requirement to achieve Sarjana Sastra Degree. The present study, “Comprehending Agent and Agentless Types of English Active and Passive Voice by Indonesian learners of English”, discusses the way learners of English comprehend English active and passive voices, specifically in the notion of agent and agentless types.

The present study is expected to enrich linguistic references about the second language learning. Nevertheless, the writer realizes that the study is far from perfection. Hence, comments, suggestions and criticism are highly encouraged for the better research in the future.

Lastly, the writer greatly hopes that the present study may give contribution to those who are working in the field of Linguistics.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

During the process of finishing this study, I often met many obstacles and, of course, distraction. However, there are kind-hearted people whose advice, guidance, support have helped me get through all of these struggles.

First of all, I would like to express my gratitude to my super-amazing supervisor, Wawan Gunawan, M.Ed Ph.D. for the time, guidance, advice, and support so that I found my way to complete this study. Sincere gratitude also goes to Dikti scholarship for the opportunity and financial support they have given. Huge thanks to my academic supervisor Bachrudin Mustafa, M.A Ph.D. for the advice he has offered.

Big thanks to the Head of English Education Department Dr. Rd. Safrina, M.A. the Head of English Language and Literature program as well as my supervisor Wawan Gunawan, M.Ed Ph.D for their endless support. Thousand thanks to all the lecturers for the precious knowledge and wisdom they have given me during my college years, and thanks to all administration staffs of English Department and FPBS UPI.

Endless gratitude goes to my dearest beloved family, Mamah Ilah Barkilah, Bapak Maman Suherman, my uncles and aunties whose support, prayers always give me strength and keep me going. This is for them.

Most gratitude goes to my dearest Rain Igneil whose support, kindness and company never cease to give me strength and confidence. Thank you so much for always being there through thick and thin, for always being kind and loving. You know that I owe all the joy to you.

Million thanks go to all my college friends, my best friends (Tanti Gintari and teh Novita), the amazing 8A; thank you guys for sharing happiness, sadness, laughter and for the greatest memory during my college years in UPI. You guys are literally the best. Thank you so much for twelievor and English Student Association, and ESC UPI that have made the life in college more interesting. Special thank goes to Daishiku members, especially Dai-Senpai members and my KKN friends who are always there whenever I need people to go out with, and many people that I cannot even mention.

Thank you and God bless you all.
