ABSTRAK

Muhammad Abi Wahdani. (2022). Protean Career Profile of Daarut Tauhiid Boarding School Vocational High School Students for the 2021/2022 Academic Year Based on Socio-Demographic Factors (Descriptive Study on Daarut Tauhiid Boarding School Vocational High School Students for the 2021/2022 Academic Year). Departemen Psikologi Pendidikan dan Bimbingan, Prodi Bimbingan dan Konseling, Fakultas Ilmu Pendidikan, Universitas Pendidikan Indonesia.

Career is a range of interrelated work activities to advance his life, involving various behaviors, motivational strengths, abilities, attitudes, needs, aspirations, ideals as a span of his own life. The times have made career directions more diverse and provide challenges for students. The development of the times requires individuals to achieve career success objectively but also subjectively. Subjective career success upholds the process of self-direction and personal values as a guide to being able to achieve subjective career success. The concept of a career that upholds the process of self-direction and personal values is known as the Protean Career. This is one of the backgrounds of this research on vocational students in particular. The purpose of this study was to obtain a profile of Protean Career for students of SMK Daarut Tauhiid Boarding School based on socio-demographic factors. This study used a cross sectional research design with a quantitative approach and descriptive method. The population of this research is all of the Daarut Tauhiid Boarding School Vocational Schools for the Academic Year 2021-2022 Class X, XI and XII. The results showed that the protean career profile of the Daarut Tauhiid Boarding School Vocational School for the Academic Year 2021-2022 was in the medium category and socio-demographic factors did not affect students' protean careers. This finding becomes a consideration for BK teachers and other parties to develop personality traits that can support the achievement of career success based on a protean career.
